

matters should be addressed in specific cases and lack uniformity justifying an advance rule limit.

New Rule on Bills and Call Centers: Mr. Forner's proposed new Rule 7 would add unnecessary new reporting requirements regarding use of utility billing and call centers. The statute already requires, directly, that costs be proportionately allocated between the utility and the VAPS. MCL 460.10ee(8). Annual, not semi-annual, reporting on cost allocation is directed by the statute. MCL 460.10ee(6)(c). Mr. Forner's proposal here is redundant and changes the statutory reporting schedule.

Market Information and Other Proposals: In several proposed changes in Part 5 rules, Mr. Forner seeks annual or advance disclosure of VAPS offering zip code areas, size of market, competitors and financial projections. Advance knowledge of much of this will not exist for a new VAPS offering. Markets might not be determined by zip codes. Identity and number of all competitors in a market area might not be known in advance. These matters are likely to vary case-by-case and are more appropriately determined in specific proceedings initiated due to claimed violation of the code of conduct.

Enclosure

DETROIT THERMAL, LLC'S RESPONSE TO THE INITIAL COMMENTS
REGARDING THE MICHIGAN
PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION'S PROPOSED CODE OF CONDUCT RULES

The Michigan Legislature via MCL 460.10ee directed the Michigan Public Service Commission ("MPSC" or "Commission") to establish a Code of Conduct that applies to all regulated utilities to prevent cross-subsidization, preferential treatment and information sharing between a utility's regulated and unregulated services. The Commission Staff ("Staff") published its draft Code of Conduct ("Draft Code") and several interested parties submitted comments to the Draft Code, including Detroit Thermal, LLC ("Detroit Thermal"). Staff also asked for interested parties to respond to the initial comments. Accordingly, Detroit Thermal respectfully submits these response comments to the initial comments to Staff's Draft Code.

I. DIRECT ENERGY, IGS ENERGY, CONSTELLATION

Direct Energy, IGS Energy and Constellation ("Direct") collectively filed several comments and submitted a red-lined copy of the Draft Code containing revised language based on its comments.

Direct first contends that the Draft Code's references to an Alternative Electric Supplier ("AES") are unclear. Direct states that the rules need to be clarified with respect to whether the rule is intended to reference any AES in general or a utility's affiliated AES. However, Direct's revisions on this point add ambiguity and seem to contradict the intent of the original draft. For instance, the revision to paragraph 2 of Rule 6 results in two competing references; one to an AES and another to an affiliate AES. It is unclear how this section should be applied as a result of the revision. Moreover, it seems the original rule was drafted to encompass a utility and an AES, not a utility and its affiliate AES. Likewise, Direct's edits to paragraph 1 of Rule 8 seem to alter the intent of the rule by limiting the rule to a utility and its affiliate AES. Direct has also rewritten Rule 11 to change the Draft Code's references from AES to an affiliate AES. Again, this seems contrary to the rule's intent and effectively exculpates an AES from having to abide by the oversight rules. The ambiguities claimed by Direct should be clarified, however, they should not be rewritten to eliminate their applicability to an AES.

Direct's revision to Rule 5 is unnecessary and addressed by other rules. There is simply no need to add language to paragraph 1 regarding embedding costs to avoid subsidization when Rule 3 specifically requires that regulated services shall not subsidize unregulated services. This revision is duplicative and should not be adopted. Moreover, Direct's revision to Rule 5 fails to address corporate-wide accounting or similar in-house corporate-wide services that do not fall under the definition of unregulated value-added programs and services. This rule must be revised to clarify that it does not apply to the allocation of such corporate-wide services between a utility and its affiliates or other entities within a utility's corporate structure.

Finally, Direct seeks to revise draft Rule 10 to require a utility to institute a process akin to a contested case to implement a new value-added program or service. Direct's proposed revision lacks necessary detail and exceeds the scope of the legislature's intent to only require a utility to notify the Commission of a new value-added program or service. Indeed, MCL 460.10ee(6)(a) states: "A utility offering a value-added program or service under this section shall do all of the following ... (a) [p]rovide the commission with written notice and a description of any newly offered value-added program or service." Direct's revision is unnecessary as there are already procedures in the Draft Code that address its compliance concerns and the statute allows an interested party to file a complaint with the Commission if it believes that a proposed value-added program or service fails to comply with the Code of Conduct.

II. MICHIGAN ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

The Commission should not adopt Michigan Electric Cooperative Association's ("MECA") revision to Rule 1. Instead, the Commission should adopt the applicability clause in the Draft Code, as revised in Detroit Thermal's initial comments, as it provides necessary clarification as to the applicability of the rules to utilities or alternative electric suppliers offering unregulated value-added programs and services.

MECA's revision to paragraph 1 of Rule 3 regarding regulation for programs other than value-added programs and services exceeds the statutory framework set forth in MCL 460.10ee and as such should be disregarded by the Commission. However, Detroit Thermal does concur with MECA's revisions regarding the elimination of the phrase of anti-competitive behavior from this rule as it is vague and ambiguous.

Detroit Thermal concurs with MECA's comment that smaller utilities should be exempt from the Code of Conduct, however, the definition of smaller utilities should be altered to be 80-100 employees or less.

MECA's revision to paragraph 1 of Rule 8 to eliminate the reference to an alternative electric supplier should be disregarded. The Code of Conduct is intended to apply to both utilities and alternative electric suppliers. Likewise, MECA's revisions throughout the remainder of Rule 8 to limit applicability of the rules to affiliate alternative electric suppliers instead of alternative electric suppliers should be disregarded.

III. MICHIGAN ELECTRIC AND GAS ASSOCIATION

The last sentence of Michigan Electric and Gas Association's ("MEGA") revision to paragraph 1 of Rule 5 contains a typographical error. The revision mistakenly refers to an affiliated alternative energy supplier rather than affiliated alternative electric supplier as defined by the definitions in the rules. MEGA's revisions to Rule 5 also fail to address the corporate-wide accounting or similar in-house corporate-wide services that do not fall under the definition of unregulated value-added programs and services. This rule must be revised to clarify that it does not apply to the allocation of corporate-wide managerial tasks between a utility and its affiliates or other entities within a utility's corporate structure.

IV. MICHIGAN ENERGY INNOVATION BUSINESS COUNCIL

Michigan Energy Innovation Business Council's ("MEIBC") comments regarding the separation of a utility's offices, employees and resources fails to account for programs offered as part of a regulated service or in-house corporate-wide services used by a utility and its affiliates. Moreover, MEIBC's comment that a value-added program and service should not use the utility brand is contrary to MCL 460.10ee(3) which specifically allows the assets of a utility, including its name and logo, to be used by an unregulated value-added program or service provided that the unregulated value-added program or service compensates the utility for its proportional use of the assets of the utility.

The Commission should disregard MEIBC's comment that a utility offering a value-added program or service should be subject to a market share cap. This concept is a restraint of trade and goes well beyond the legislature's intent of ensuring a level playing field among competitors. Likewise, the Commission should not adopt any rules prohibiting a utility's affiliate from bidding on a request for proposal issued by the utility. Additionally, this revision is superfluous given that other provisions of the Draft Code establish rules on transactions between a utility and its affiliates.

MEIBC's comment that an officer sign an affidavit is unneeded given the language of paragraph 2 of draft Rule 12.

V. PHIL FORNER

Mr. Forner's definition of anti-competitive behavior should not be adopted by the Commission. Having the Commission establish such a definition raises anti-trust issues which exceed the matters the Michigan Legislature intended the Commission to regulate via the Code of Conduct. Moreover, the proposed rule goes beyond limiting cross-subsidization and preferential treatment and attempts to establish a defined market cap for a utility's value-added program or service. As noted above, this is a restraint of trade which should not be codified in the Code of Conduct.

Mr. Forner's revision to Rule 3 lacks specificity as to what sections of MCL 460.10ee it is referencing.

Mr. Forner's revision to paragraph 2 of Rule 5 constitutes overbroad regulation and would prevent a utility from transferring its employees to an affiliate regardless of whether or not the transfer had anything to do with an unregulated value-added program or service. The Commission should not adopt any rules establishing an obligation for a utility to report on the assignment of its employees regarding matters that do not pertain to a value-added program or service.

Mr. Forner's reporting requirements regarding the use of monthly bills and call centers are unnecessary given the report requirements set forth in MCL 460.10ee(6)(c) and MCL 460.10ee(15). Moreover, semi-annual filing requirements are over-burdensome on both a utility and Staff and exceed the annual reporting requirements set forth in the statute.

Mr. Forner's proffered revisions to the notification rules of the Draft Code should not be adopted by the Commission. First, there is no need to increase the notification time-frame prior to instituting a value-added program or service from 30 days to 90 days given the requirements set forth in MCL 460.10ee(6)(a). The revision of subparagraph (c) of paragraph 1 of Rule 10 (Mr.

Forner's Rule 11) is not needed as the statute and other provisions of the Draft Code address this issue. The revisions regarding the provision of zip codes and the institution of a new Commission approval procedure exceed the scope of the legislature's intent to only require a utility to notify the Commission of a new value-added program or service.

Finally, Mr. Forner's proposed requirement that a utility provide notice regarding a request for a waiver is overly burdensome and unnecessary.

Mr. Phil Forner

July 28, 2017

Phil Forner's reply to July 14, 2017 comments on MPSC Staff's Initial Code of Conduct

It is obvious from reading the July 14, 2017 comments from those who will financially benefit from the state sanctioned monopolies (i.e. the utilities) being able to offer one or more value added program and service (VAPS) would prefer the proposed code of conduct to be as least restrictive and vague as possible. However being fully aware of the potential harm to ratepayers, consumers, and free-market businesses when allowing monopolistic utilities to venture outside of the regulated utility business, the Legislature empowered and instructed the MPSC to establish a code of conduct that, according to MCL 460.10ee(1), must try to and actually prevent cross-subsidization, preferential treatment and, except as otherwise provided under MCL 460.10ee, information sharing. Having less restrictive and vague code of conduct will not prevent cross-subsidization, preferential treatment and or inappropriate information sharing. Therefore it is strongly recommended that the code of conduct contain specific requirements to actually prevent all cross-subsidization, preferential treatment and inappropriate information sharing that is not specifically allowed by MCL 460.10ee instead of leaving it up to the Commission to decide in complaint case or worse yet, up to the courts.

The Legislature then went on to further empower and instruct the MPSC in MCL 460.10ee(2) to make sure that every utility offered VAPS does not harm the public interest by unduly restraining trade or competition in an unregulated market. The utilities opine in their July 14, 2017 comments, that "the MPSC should not be creating a public database for competitors about a utility's VAPS business plans and projections" as those competitors of future utility VAPS "would certainly oppose this type of access to their business plans". However the utility statements fail to recognize the tremendous business advantage given to them in MCL 460.10ee(3); by being able to have the utility buy and maintain its assets and then allow the VAPS to use utility assets whenever needed with the VAPS only have to compensate the utility for its proportional use of the assets. In exchange for this enormous business advantage and for the potential for VAPS to harm the public interest by unduly restraining trade or competition in an unregulated market, the Legislature empowered the MPSC to establish and enforce a code of conduct and enforce the letter and intent of MCL 460.10ee. Therefore it is respectfully requested that the MPSC Staff resist pressures to not be informed of VAPS activities and ensure that all VAPS do not harm the public interest by unduly restraining trade or competition in an unregulated market.

Given the above and when MCL 460.10ee is read as a whole, it is clear that the Legislature intended the MPSC to initially and in an ongoing manner protect ratepayers, consumers, and free-market businesses that have to compete with the VAPS, from the obvious and real harm that could easily come if the monopolistic utilities offer VAPS.

Michigan Energy Efficiency Contractors Association

July 28, 2017

Derrell Slaughter
Michigan Public Service Commission
7109 W. Saginaw Highway
Lansing, MI 48917

Dear Mr. Slaughter:

The Michigan Energy Efficiency Contractors Association (MEECA) submits these comments as part of a stakeholder process prior to formal rulemaking by the Michigan Public Service Commission (MPSC) on the Code of Conduct, 2016 PA 341, Sec. 10ee.

MEECA was created to serve our core members: companies that design, install or evaluate energy efficiency solutions in residential, commercial and industrial buildings. Its primary purpose is to advocate that Michigan has the most robust, reliable, qualified, and predictable energy efficiency industry in the nation. Many of our members are small businesses that have been operating in established unregulated markets for many years. Most of these companies do not enjoy the significant marketing, institutional, and operational advantages of the much larger utility providers that have been granted permission to offer new value-added programs and services (VAPS) in Michigan. Therefore, establishing and enforcing an effective Code of Conduct that supports a fair, functioning market without cross-subsidies is important to our membership.

According to the Paths to the Future Report, "Once a market is open, it is important that there be fair competition in order to create a robust market with many participants. Here, the role of the regulator shifts emphasis from prices to ensuring that the market structure is fair so that the market can function properly and clear at reasonable prices. Without proper controls, [electric distribution utilities] EDUs can achieve a competitive advantage, squeeze out competitors, and control the market."<sup>1</sup>

Recognizing that regulated utilities may now offer VAPS to their customers, MEECA stresses that these programs and services should not harm the public interest by unduly restraining trade or competition in an unregulated market. We provide specific comments below.

A. Flexibility in developing a new Code of Conduct is warranted

Allowing regulated utilities to offer an expanded range of VAPS departs from Michigan's historical energy marketplace. Therefore, it is appropriate for the MPSC to use sufficient judgement in anticipating potential issues of concern as rulemaking proceeds. MEECA recognizes this general concept in the proposed language (emphasis added):

- R 460.10103 Separation. (3) A utility's regulated services shall not subsidize in any manner, directly or indirectly, the business of its affiliates or other entities within the corporate structure offering unregulated value-added programs or services.

B. Underscore the need to protect against discrimination in the marketplace

In developing rules with regard to R 460.10108 Discrimination, MEECA encourages MPSC to consider more subtle ways that discrimination can occur. For example, Paths to the Future identifies the following list of less obvious activities that should not be tolerated:

- "Processing requests of the affiliate [electric service provider] ESP before the unaffiliated ESP, which results in faster and better service for the affiliate, impacting end-use customer satisfaction;
- Policing prohibitions against providing leads to the affiliate or directing customers who call for information to the affiliate;
- Sharing any kind of market analysis or other proprietary reports that are not made publicly available;
- Giving the appearance that the [electric distribution utility] EDU speaks on behalf of the affiliate ESP and vice versa;
- Requesting customer permission to pass on customer information exclusively to the affiliate ESP."

These are some examples, but the principle is simple—all competitive ESPs should be treated the same at all times and at the same time."<sup>2</sup>

MEECA further notes that the list of concerns is not limited to circumstances in which a utility intentionally favors an affiliate provider. Unintentional discrimination can also result from, for instance, more familiar communication pathways between the utility and its affiliate as compared with an unknown third-party provider. Final rules should reflect this reality.

C. Need for clearly delineated initial review process and conflict resolution process

MEECA concurs with initial comments by Direct Energy/IGS/Constellation: "Rule 460.10110 creates almost a rubber stamp approval of the project. These projects should allow time for a review and intervention if a party could be harmed due to non-compliance with the rules. It is critical to ensure that no regulated assets are used in a manner that may undercut competitors in an industry. If there is no deficiency, then the program could go into effect in 60 days or some other time frame; however, the longer time frame with Staff review ensures a more thorough analysis.”

MEECA endorses the concept of a 60 or even 90-day review period for new VAPS during which the MPSC can determine if an offering would result in any cross-subsidization or unduly restrain trade or competition in an unregulated market.

In terms of the process for conflict resolution, MEECA agrees with Mr. Phil Forner in his initial comments that “This dispute resolution process is not required as a prerequisite to a formal complaint.” Adding further weight to Mr. Forner’s recommendation, we note a precedent from the Texas Public Utilities Commission in similar Code of Conduct language, which states, “The informal complaint process shall not be a prerequisite for filing a formal complaint with the commission, and the commission may, at any time, institute a complaint against a utility on its own motion.”<sup>3</sup>

D. Transparency of information

MEECA concurs with initial comments by Michigan EIBC: “When the regulated utilities operate with their affiliates in the competitive market, the information they utilize should also be available to other market participants in the same timeframe, form and substance.”

E. No favorable pricing for VAPS

MEECA concurs with initial comments by Michigan EIBC: “To ensure competition in the unregulated space, the utility must pay fully loaded prices for utility resources and there should be no favorable pricing or terms for affiliates.”

F. Utility compliance plan should include employee training on Code of Conduct

Effective implementation of the Code of Conduct will require utility and affiliate employees who are knowledgeable of the applicable provisions. Therefore, MEECA highlights this helpful language from Paths to the Future for MPSC to consider during the rulemaking process:

“As part of the plan, there should be an educational component for all employees that includes training and a handbook, so that employees of both EDUs and affiliate ESP understand what conduct is and is not permissible. There should be training and education procedures in place for all new and existing employees.”<sup>4</sup>

G. Utility branding should not be used to market VAPS

In keeping with the proposed language (R 460.10106 Marketing. Rule 6. (1) "... The utility shall not give the appearance in any way that it speaks on behalf of its affiliates or other entities within the corporate structure offering unregulated value-added programs or services, nor shall the utility permit an affiliate or other entity within the corporate structure offering unregulated value-added programs or services to give the appearance that it speaks on behalf of the utility."), MEECA concludes that leveraging a regulated company's branding is inappropriate for products and services offered in an unregulated market.

MEECA shares this concern with Michigan EIBC, whose initial comments state (emphasis added): "Those programs and services should be independent including a separation of accounts, offices, employees and other resources, including the use of the utility brand."

Paths to the Future further develops the same point:

"The affiliate ESP should not use or trade upon, promote, or advertise its business using the EDU's name or logo, as this would tend to be to its commercial advantage. The affiliate ESP should have its own separate identification, and its identity should also be kept separate. If such practice (same or similar name and logo) is permitted, then the affiliate ESP must be required to disclose expressly that the affiliate ESP is not the same company as the EDU, that the affiliate ESP is not regulated by the commission, and that the customer does not have to buy the affiliate ESP's services in order to remain a customer of the EDU. The affiliate ESP should also be prohibited to use the EDU to advertise its services or any kind of joint advertising between the two entities. This not only creates fairness in the market (a company with a utility logo or name has market recognition that gives it a competitive advantage), but also avoids customer confusion. Customers have the right to understand who the entity is with whom they are contracting. When the same or similar name and logo is used by the affiliate ESP, it can be difficult for the customer to understand that they are dealing with a separate company."<sup>5</sup>

H. Notification requirements should include zip codes

MEECA concurs with initial comments by Mr. Phil Forner regarding Notification: "A list of the zip codes in which the new value-added program or service will be offered and the overall financial size of the market and number of competitors in each zip code area in which the new value-added program or service will be offered."

I. Establishment of a market share limit for VAPS

Initial comments by Michigan EIBC state that "If an affiliate offers competitive services within its monopoly utility territory, there must be a cap on affiliate market share for the utility territory." MEECA endorses this position and further recommends that MPSC begin research to determine the appropriate level or levels for such a limit on allowable unregulated market share.
